

Herald of Good TIDINGS

“Get you up to a high mountain, O Zion, herald of good tidings; lift up your voice with strength, O Jerusalem, herald of good tidings, lift it up, fear not; say to the cities of Judah, ‘Behold your God!’”
Isaiah 40:9

Names Part 2, Electric Boogaloo
You Are Not a Princess!

As I write this, the royal wedding of Prince Harry and Meghan Markle has just occurred. I did not get up at 4 A.M. to watch it, but I had BBC America on as I did dishes and other chores around the house. BBC America had wall to wall coverage of the royal wedding. The British commentators have been careful to call Meghan, Her Royal Highness, the Duchess of Sussex, NOT PRINCESS Meghan.

I guess, the only princess in Britain is the Princess of Wales, the wife of the heir to the throne, the Prince of Wales. Well, that is just wrong. Everyone that has ever seen a Disney princess movie knows a princess is any girl that marries a prince or whose dad was a prince or king. The British royal family is NOT more powerful than Disney. Heck, in the Disney show Sofia the First, Sophia’s mom marries a prince and Sophia becomes a princess even though the prince was not her biological dad.

So, in this case, I hold that the Disney president must override the Queen of Great Britain so Meghan Markle-Windsor is a princess, and those who say no can go pound sand. Their queen has no power in the U.S.

Who gets to call us what? I had a cousin called Lawrence. His mom hated the name Larry. Lawrence was never called Larry. Then I went to work for him. At work he was only called Larry. I asked, “Which do you prefer, Lawrence or Larry?”

He replied, “It is not about preference. In the family I am Lawrence. At work I am Larry. Larry and Lawrence are a little different but all me. But you better just keep calling me Lawrence, ’cause if my mother, your aunt, hears you call me Larry she will freak.”

We know Lawrence’s mom lacked the power to keep him from being called Larry. Just as the Queen can’t keep us from calling Kate and Meghan princesses. What about you? Who has the power to call you names? Who has the power to tease you or insult you?

“Sticks and stones may break my bones
But names will never hurt me.”

What a lie. We know it is a lie, but it is a lie we have to teach our kids because the world will try to hurt them with a lot worse than some childish names. Our kids need to learn to build armor against the insults that are thrown at all of us. What about the adults? What gets through our armor? Is it a word, or a person that can strip away our armor?

Who do you believe when they say you are not a princess? Should you give them that power?

FROM THE DIRECTOR OF RELIGIOUS EDUCATION

Well, we made it! Another year is over, and we dive into summer. As many of you go off to vacation homes, and weekends are filled with trips to the beach, we find our Sunday school halls bare and quiet. I pray that, although you are not in church, you all remember the lessons you have learned this year and continue to be a vessel for God’s love and understanding to all you meet. I am so happy to see how much each of you has learned this year and what confident young Christians you are all becoming. Thank you for all of your hard work this year.

I would also like to thank all the teachers: Shannon Hartmann, Lillian McPherson, and Michael Schillinger; without each of these remarkable people, we would not have had such an amazing Sunday school year. Words cannot express my gratitude to each of you.

The Board of Ed went way above these past few weeks when I was unable to tend to my class; thank you, Katie Sharr, for stepping up and filling in for me. The rest of the board also filled in whenever needed and at our monthly meetings helped to tackle all issues that would come up in regard to the education of the children.

Last, but by no means least, I would like to thank ALL the volunteers who helped this year. Whether in Cradle Roll or in the classroom, your help is truly needed and very much appreciated. I know some of you were hesitant at first, but I hope after you helped once, you were put at ease and will again volunteer in the fall. (I have a sheet if you want to sign up. ☺)

Please enjoy our annual cookout on the church lawn on Children’s Sunday, June 3. This will be immediately after the service. All we ask is for you to sign up to bring a dessert or salad and your appetite. As always the BOE will provide drinks, burgers, and hot dogs. Thank you to Dan Largesse and Rich McPherson for “volunteering” to cook.

I pray this summer provides opportunities for rest, relaxation, reflection, and fun. Remember to wear sunscreen and hats!

I am honored to be the Christian Education Director here at First Congregational Church and, with God as my guide, I will return in the fall refreshed and ready to explore and teach His word again.

Here We Grow Preschool June Tidings

This is a very busy time of the year for everyone associated with Here We Grow. With graduation approaching, we go forward with many mixed emotions. We will be saying good-bye to some families we have known for years, and we look forward to bringing in a group of new families. At this time, we all would like to say thank you for the support and memories that we have all been a part of this year.

Here We Grow will be graduating on June 7th and 8th. Spree Day will be on June 4th. If you have a little one and would like to join us for Pumpnickel Puppets Show, please stop in. The show starts at 10:45.

On May 7th, the 3-day and 5-day program classes visited Capen Hill Nature Sanctuary in Charlton for their end-of-year field trip. The weather was perfect for a nature walk, exploring the pond and seeing the animals. On May 10th, the 2-day program classes visited Whittier Farm in Sutton. Again, the weather was perfect for a walk around the farm, checking out where the cows live and what they eat. We even got to try some farm-fresh milk!

The first week of our summer program is not full yet, week 1, Gardening Greatness (June 18-22). The teachers working our summer program are Helen Ethier, Michelle Lempicki, Diana Mancini, Courtney Tomaszewicz, and Cristi Corey (craft room). Our helper is Megan Corey.

As we approach the close of this school year, our enrollment for the 2018-19 school year has a few openings in our 3-year-old and afternoon 4-year-old classes. If you know of anyone looking for a great school, please send them our way.

In closing, I would first like to say thank you to the church members, board members and parents for making my first year as Director of Here We Grow a great one. I look forward to the fall and continuing the success of this program. Wishing you all a safe and fun-filled summer.

GROWING OUR FAITH THROUGH GENEROSITY

The Stewardship committee is pleased to announce that our theme for this year is "Growing Our Faith Through Generosity."

We feel that this theme speaks to us because we are all part of the cycle of giving and receiving. Giving to our church brings us together and helps us feel connected to each other and to God.

Faith nurtures generosity. Generosity makes things happen, which in turn strengthens our faith that God can show us the way to help ourselves and others.

"Christ has no body on earth but yours, no hands but yours, no feet but yours. Yours are the eyes through which Christ's compassion for the world is to look out; yours are the feet with which He is to go about doing good; and yours are the hands with which He is to bless us now." - Saint Teresa of Avila

We encourage you to think about how your generosity of spirit has strengthened your faith and the life of our church.

In service, your Stewardship Committee
Jeanne Avallone, Michelle Bigelow, Nan Johnson, Ellie Lowell, Jake and Lauren Webb

First Congregational Church 2018 Monthly Income & Expenses

Although the new Bibles were dedicated at a worship service in February and are now in the church pews, some Bibles remain available for “purchase.” The purchase price of $12 each allows for a dedication to be printed onto a label and then affixed to the inside front cover of the pew Bible. This is a wonderful way to pay tribute to a loved one.

Please complete an order form and include a check payable to First Congregational Church noting “Memorial Fund – Bible” in the memo section and return to the church office, 128 Central Street, Auburn, MA 01501, or place in the offering plate on Sunday.
